

OCTOBER 2015

WSJ.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL MAGAZINE

PURE &
SIMPLE

KATE WINSLET

TOP BLOCK

MEHAR CHAND MARKET

With stylish boutiques and trendy bistros opening alongside everyday establishments, New Delhi's humble neighborhood bazaar has become an international destination.

BY SARAH KHAN

Nur

The four floors of this whimsical housewares and furniture emporium brim with patterned dishes, armchairs with bold floral motifs and, in an extensive kids' section, pillows shaped like animals and cars.

71A Mehar Chand Market; nurhome.in

Manan

Traditional fabrics fashioned into Western silhouettes have made this label a hit with locals for more than 20 years. The brand's two-level boutique offers minimalist kurtas (flowy tunics), wide-leg pants, georgette caftans and pompom-tasseled scarves.

115 Mehar Chand Market; manandesign.com

Vintage 31 Bistro & Café by Navya

While this bilevel bistro, which opened a year ago, serves hearty fare like pork ribs and lamb chops, its feminine décor suggests a leisurely high tea.

31 Mehar Chand Market; +91-11-4905-2255

Tisha

For an Indian wedding, this is the place to find elegant—and appropriate—bridal- and formalwear. Rising designer Tisha Saxena specializes in handmade saris and lehengas embellished with intricate zardozi and resham work.

35 Mehar Chand Market; tishasaksena.in

En Inde

In addition to a namesake jewelry line, Anupama Sukh Lalvani and Sonal Sood's concept shop carries fashion and accessories by local designers, ceramics by South African dishware company Wonki Ware and minimalist blouses by French label Laurence Doligé.

125-126 Mehar Chand Market; eninde.com

Nappa Dori

Designer Gautam Sinha's accessories label offers leather iPad cases and massive vintage-inspired steamer trunks, as well as totes and wallets printed with images of Indian cityscapes from a bygone era.

25 Mehar Chand Market; nappadori.com

Kunafa

With a multicultural ownership—and Syrian, Jordanian and Palestinian chefs—this Middle Eastern patisserie serves the most authentic baklava in town. Sample versions made with an array of ingredients, from cashews to dates.

70 Mehar Chand Market; kunafa.in

A NAPPA DORI HANDCRAFTED "HARNESS" LEATHER ORGANIZER

